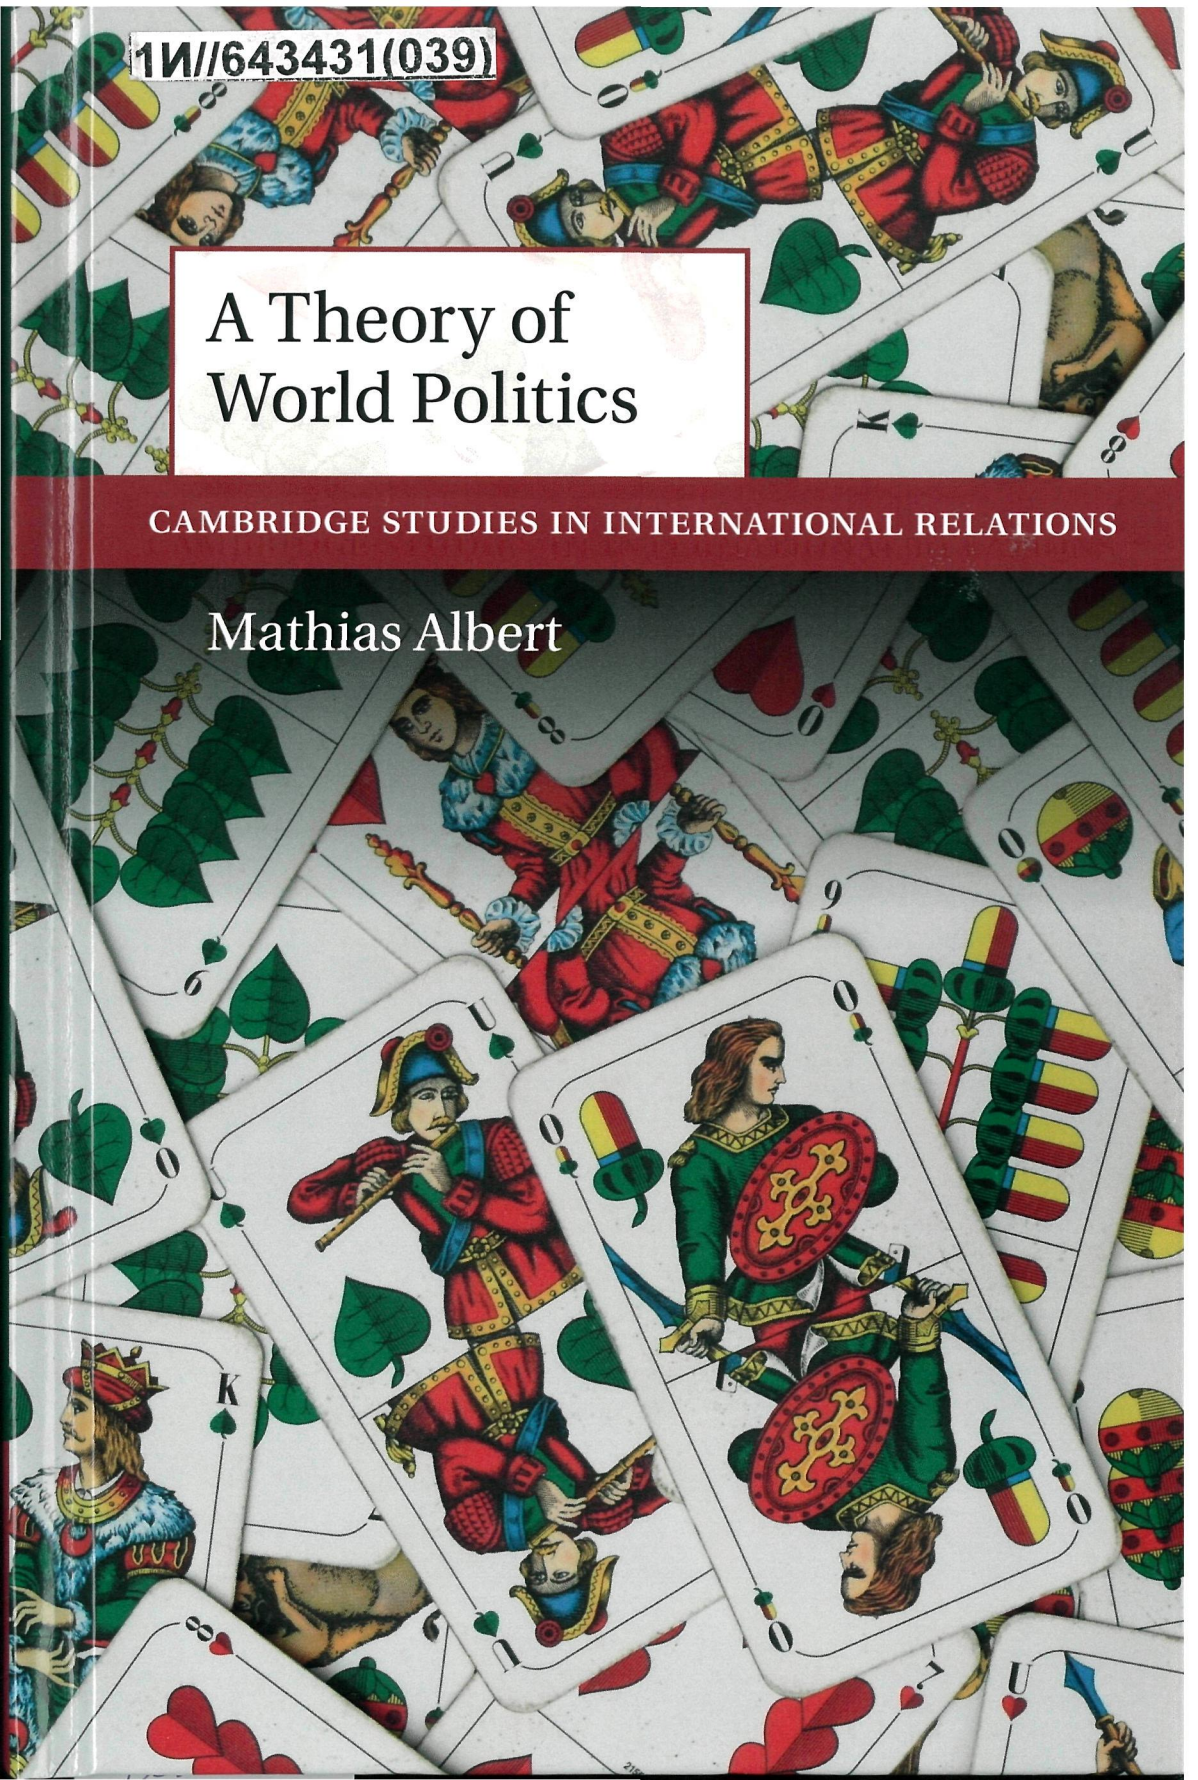
1И//643431(039)

A Theory of World Politics

CAMBRIDGE STUDIES IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Mathias Albert



Contents

List of figures page xi
Acknowledgements xii

Introduction 1
Ambition and preliminaries 1
Chapter overview 8

Part I World society theory 15

1 The 'world' and 'society' in 'world society' 19
The 'world' in 'world society' 19
The 'society' in 'world society' 32
World society 43

2 World society and social differentiation: segmentation, stratification and functional differentiation 46
Differentiation as a core concept 48
Forms of differentiation 58
Regional variations of differentiation? 63
Function systems – interaction – organisation and social evolution 66
Differentiation theory and the system of world politics 71

Part II Emerging world politics 77

3 The system of world politics 81
The political system of world society in global knowledge orders and imaginations 83
The evolution of world politics as a subsystem of the political system I: from interaction to system 90
The evolution of world politics as a subsystem of the political system II: the structural expansion of world politics and the consolidation of forms 116
'International' and 'world' politics: a note on semantics 126
Summary: the differentiation of the system of world politics 132

4 Forms of world politics 134
System complexity 140
Differentiation and forms of organising political authority in world politics 146
The enduring variety of world politics 169

Part III Reflections and roads ahead 171

5 Reflections on theorising world politics 173
On the theory – condensed 173
Theory: purpose and limits 178
Theoretical fits and misfits 182

6 Limitations, loose threads, further research 200
From limitations ... 200
... to loose threads and further research 209

Concluding remarks: scrambles amongst world politics 218

References 221

Index 250

Figures

4.1 The proto-system of world politics: interaction page 142
4.2 A stratified system 144
4.3 A segmented system 145
4.4 A functionally differentiated system 146